

A photograph of a green lizard perched on the edge of a large, green, serrated leaf, likely from a cactus. The lizard is facing right, and its shadow is cast onto the leaf's surface. The background is a blurred green, suggesting a natural habitat.

Trends in Ecology & Evolution

Volume 38 Number 2
February 2023
ISSN 0169-5347

Key innovations

 CellPress